

CEDEFOP

European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training

EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT

Chris Davies

(Coordinator on the ENVI Committee of the European Parliament)

Elisabeth Schroedter

(Vice-President of the EMPL Committee of the European Parliament)

Aviana Bulgarelli

(Director, Cedefop – European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training) have the pleasure to invite you to the workshop on

LEARNING TO BE GREEN future skills for green jobs

Brussels, 29 September 2010, 15h-18h
European Parliament, room ASP 5G2
Followed by a cocktail reception

The European Union aims to achieve sustainable growth and a competitive low-carbon economy.

To accomplish this, its people must have the right skills to successfully manage the transition to greener job profiles and new green jobs.

This workshop will discuss:

- What are the challenges for a greener,
more resource-efficient Europe?
- What are the emerging occupational profiles?
- What policy decisions does the European Union need to take?

Speakers include:

László Andor

Commissioner for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion

Connie Hedegaard

Commissioner for Climate Action

Representatives from the European Commission, European social partners and from industry