Europe's promise - Germany's responsibility

Debate with Annalena Baerbock and Robert Habeck

With a strong and united European Union, we can work together to push forward effective climate protection, face global insecurities, prepare for economic recessions and create social balance. However, over the past five years the German government has been on the brakes in many ways: in economic reforms and investments, in stricter climate measures, in strengthening the European level. Now we find ourselves in a situation in which much is being put on a new track - with a new European Parliament and a new European Commission, a new work programme. Will the EU meet the challenges and become more sustainable, more social and more democratic? What role must Germany play in this?

The debate will be held in English.
